Dear Member of parliament,

I am a concerned citizen of this great country and nation Australia and believe what I am writing to be true. Not because I think it is right or believe it to be right by my own imagination, I know that the ordinance of marriage was firstly given by God and ordained by God in Genesis 2:24 therefore because God said it is right.

The ordinance of marriage was given to us by God himself and not by man and religion. Therefore I must disagree to have teaching or anything that contradicts the bible and it's teachings taught to children in schools or ever have the marriage union changed.

To have this taught in schools directly goes against what God instructs mankind to live in this world that He created. I earnestly ask you to keep the ordinance of marriage between male and female the way God created it.
