I think Its a disgrace that kids can't train at a reasonable cost any longer in a TAFE facility. TAFE has always been a quality learning centre, producing skilled workforce participants. It was the place to undertake training for those who didn't fit the university style. People could get their training in more trades based employment while studying at TAFE. Now, the fees are obscene and the everyday person cannot afford to attend TAFE. Where are our children meant to train?? Its completely pathetic that there is now NOWHERE for those with little funds to gain further training.
