

Submission
No 50

INQUIRY INTO EDUCATION AMENDMENT (ETHICS CLASSES REPEAL) BILL 2011

Name: Name suppressed

Date received: 17/12/2011

Partially Confidential

I believe the Ethics course would be a 'man made' course & one has to ask whose Ethics are they?

We have survived perfectly well prior to the principles & Ethics of the basic Christian principles why do we need change?

Most religions have similar Ethics & if humanistic ethics are put in their place then I see it can only lead to a more troubled society than we have in place already.

This trouble I believe began with the easy divorce laws ruining the family structure. There is no easy divorce & many divorces could have been prevented if there was the previous laws of proving fault not where one or other partner wanted 'out'.

The body of legal people who bought this law in to being could quite easily be equated to the Ethics Committee group.

I say NO to the Ethics course.