Dear Sirs, I am alarmed to see that there seems to be a heavy increase in donation funds by unions & big business. They are done to obtain favourable legislation for themselves, at the expense of voters.

We all become disadvantaged by these practices, and Parliament is unable to achieve what they are elected to do.

I am alarmed to see that there is such a heavy increase in donations to election funds by unions & big business. They are done to skew legislation in their favour, at the expense of the rest of the community.

We all become disadvantaged by these practices, and Parliament is unable to achieve what they are elected to do.

This is surely irresponsible and I therefore protest strongly at the practice continuing and hope there will be a fairer way of raising funds to prevent such bias occurring.

Yours faithfully
Michael H. Cole
