Greyhounds are such magnificent and gentle dogs. They deserve better than the treatment dished out by many in the industry. They are considered disposable and this is not appropriate. So many die unnecessarily. Things need to change. The industry needs to be regulated more. More accountability is needed. I am blessed to live with rescue greyhounds. Please please think very carefully - and please remember this is about the dogs; and unless things change many will continue to suffer and be subjected to cruel and inhumane conditions and many many will die
