

Submission
No 321

INQUIRY INTO SAME SEX MARRIAGE LAW IN NSW

Name: Name suppressed

Date received: 8/02/2013

Partially Confidential

We should in no way be debating the same sex issue at a state level. It is unconstitutional and invalid to take over a national matter. Why bring confusion by pursuing a divide (state level vs national) and conquer strategy to a matter we all know is morally grounded? Trying to wear out every corner of law to win may get you there, as good moral citizens can only take so much and may eventually get quieter, but to what end? A break down in societal values can only mean certain corruption and deterioration of society. It is like making $2 + 2 = 6$. If this were so, planes would come crashing out of the sky, skyscrapers would topple over. It just doesn't work! Let the natural order of things hold its place.