

INQUIRY INTO ROAD TOLLING

Name: Name suppressed
Date received: 22 February 2017

---

Partially
Confidential

I always thought that it was against consumer law to charge twice for the same goods or service. So why should we pay for tolls on existing sections of the M4 that have already been paid in full from a previous toll on the M4? Were they lying to us when they were taking money from us then? What of the previous promise from Government ( an election promise I recall) when they told us that they would remove the toll from the M4