I object most strongly to the incinerator waste project. Already I am surrounded by 6 rubbish dumps, and the smell of a morning can be horrendous. The people of Western Sydney are NOT second class citizens. It is enough that you wish to burden us with a second airport, and have considered moving the nuclear waste from the North Shore to a site in Sydney's west . Further industry is being encouraged to locate in the area, and major roads constructed, but NO plans for improved public transport.

Shame on the government ! I understand that Sydney has a growing population that needs to be accommodated, but where is your creative thinking in regard to the issues presented by this increase?
