INQUIRY INTO 'ENERGY FROM WASTE' TECHNOLOGY

The air is already quite polluted in the City, so why not built that incinerator on the Hyde Park site, or a bit more East on the Centennial Park site? On a good westerly winds day, it would push the smokes, bad smells and God knows what, at sea.

Seriously, we already going to get an airport here, you would not want a big nasty column of smoke obstructing the flight path.

We do not want it here or any where else as a matter of fact.

Regards

Xavier David
