I have a number of recommendations that I believe may assist

1. Make the policies across government not just one department if you are found corrupt in one agency or have engaged in misconduct you should not be able to get a job in another department.
2. There needs to be a higher level of accountability for leadership in protecting Whistle-blowers and somewhere that we can go if we are not getting the protection we need. The NSW Police Force in most cases will not be in a position to assist as the matters will not be deemed as serious enough.
3. Make sure if someone like _____ changes jobs that that does not serve to protect them from being held accountable
4. Change the Whistle blower laws to actually protect people at the moment they do not.
5. IRC needs better practices to protect victims that are not in the court room they currently protect offenders.
6. You can have the most amazing policies in the world without accountability they are useless. Everything that happened to me was in existing policies as inappropriate behaviour it made absolutely no difference.
