To whom it may concern

Music is part of every culture. It connects people, it creates a loving atmosphere, reduces violence, and touches on the inner workings of what it is to be human.

NSW, specifically Sydney, has reduced the time and places in which listeners can connect and musicians can create and deliver an experience.

Please consider more investment into music , please consider reducing laws and restrictions that limit the capacity in which artists can share their music.

One option is to revoke the lock out laws. That would be a great start Allowing a foundation and environment for those to create, will improve the area in which it is.

Thank you for your consideration
