"Music is bigger than words and wider than pictures" - Mogwai.

Music is very important to me. Music is the language I speak. Music is important to my mental health. When words fail me, music speaks.

Music is the international language that we all speak. Music helps to bring our community together. Music helps convey emotions that words do not adequately express.

Music is important to NSW, it is important to me.

I love music in all of its many shapes and forms. Music is an important form of expression for me. On days when I don't feel like talking, I make music and the world doesn't seem so bad.

Music is good for the young and the old. It is an important art form.

Life without music is like an ocean with no sea or lungs with no air.

Keep NSW happy and healthy. Give everyone access to music. If there were more musical instruments in this world and less guns, the world would be a much happier place.

Say yes to music.

Say yes to life!
