I have been flying into sydney for years and years. Since the mid nineties and I have seen the city change. The lost of the monorail was one thing I thought was great. Having The light rail in the city is good. Seeing that I am not a local to sydney AU. I was hoping that the next time I go to Sydney AU I could ride the new light rail. Now it is a huge scar in the middle of the city. Please fix your new public transit!!
