I do not understand how the bailout of the SCG trust by an injection of public funds to replace the stadium does not come hand in hand with the sacking of the board of re trust and its closure as an organisation. The task of this trust is the upkeep of the stadium. That they have let it degrade to a stage that it needs replacing and that they require government finding is shocking mismanagement.

The decision to bail them out without retribution reeks of corruption. This stench al th more pungent given the presence of disgraced corrupt politician Barry OFarrell on the Trust.

If an independent certifier has found the stadium needs replacement so be it but that same finding should also prove the current governance structure at best inadequate and at worst guilty of gross negligence.
