Moore Park was given to the people of Sydney as parkland ; that does not include building more stadia, bridges, sports and medical centres, universities in that space.

"We should be improving and expanding open space not further eroding it – after all three out of every four people living in the City of Sydney live in an apartment – Moore Park is our city's backyard." Clover Moore.

"Green space is not vacant space, to be filled with infrastructure. It is critical to the health and welfare of the community and is irreplaceable." Saving Moore Park
