It doesn't make sense to make bigger roads that mean more cars moving around the city. Why aren't we improving our public transport instead? Better trains, buses and light rail. Less high rise and traffic. Sydneysiders are sick of the mess we are living in. Stop spending stupid money over stupid money making our city into one huge traffic jam. They have already destroyed so many heritage buildings how can we afford to lose anymore? We need to save what little bit of history we have left. No where else in the world do they destroy their heritage. This Government have managed to wipe out so many beautiful homes and suburbs because they are chasing the dollar. Which isn't happening anyway because of the bad management.
