I strongly believe the system is by far the most innovative system Australia has ever seen and all. What system doesn't have flaws? We need to work to ensure this is sustainable into the future no matter what the cost. I've even participated in the NDIS since its infancy with its trial period in Tasmania through my step son who was among the first recipients to get a plan. And now about to embark on my own NDIS journey, I'm more than happy to talk further should you wish too.
