Hello. Im a little tax payer in this big country and ive found out something very disturbing. You plan to dig up plots in cemeteries after 25 years and resell plots. I realise that with all the infrastructure that goes on in this country that you might be running out of room, but there has got to be a better way to handle this situation. Because i would hate to think that my mother, nan and pop, would be in your way to make extra money. Did you know that Australia is one of the most highly taxed countries. Yet you feel like we need to do this not only to "free up space" but also to resell. Well, if you want to dig up my grand parents and my mum, i say no. If your willing to cremate them, then i might consider. But it would be at your expense. One more thing, would this be based on religious beliefs? Because good luck with that.
