The Director,

RE The Honourable Gladys Berejiklian's Conduct:
was she offered and did she accept bribes

The Premier of NSW, Gladys Berejiklian should be investigated, WHETHER OR NOT she was "influenced" by developers in any way to build WestConnex and other roads.

The "building fever" regarding roads and stadiums is conspicuous, to say the least, that the Premier has displayed ever since she came into power. It is possible that developers have approached her, it is possible that she was offered financial "incentive", and it is possible that she accepted it. It should be investigated.

WestConnex and other road projects smack of private interests, providing private transport, and a way of sucking money out of commuters, who already paid their taxes more than once. Virtually no provision has been made for more public transport or improving the existing one.

Yours faithfully

Marta Balassa
