Well the dead have been squatting on that land. Squatting is a legal ownership that is absolute so every single cemetery is protected. The cemetery land was granted for that sole purpose and every single burial is a Torrens title is also absolute as well with or without a receipt. The Appeal to the High Court will be won by the little people in this matter because all of the above is LAW OF THE LAND which is a thousand years old. Any acts created will be abolished. Any elected official who votes in favor to these acts should be investigated for taking money from land developers.

Aboriginal burial sites are protected so should white people cemeteries be protected because everyone buried in those sites built Australia and we shouldnt destroy white people heritage in this country.

Gosford City Council destroyed Brady Gully Cemetery and years later the headstones were found at Erina Council Depot and at the side of a bridge near Erina. I saw the headstones at that location years before and I told members of the committee where I saw them and they found them there and the council had to put them back.

Leave the cemeteries where they are and don't mess with our history.
