Dear everyone, I would like to write in support of environmental concerns regarding the proposed flooding of the Blue Mountains National Park. I grew up in the Hawkesbury Valley nearby, and love hiking in remote areas in the Blue Mountains World Heritage area. I recently hiked the K-K (Kanangra to Katoomba), a multi day hike. I was struck by the way nature has been preserved out there. Being in nature is so healthy and helpful for us troubled humans and I believe that access to untainted places assists us to grow in a good direction. The environment has been ravaged by humans. What a simple way to turn the tide on destruction- by doing nothing, and letting nature be. Thank you for reading my submission, Kind regards, Libby Hyett Artist and shop owner Libby Hyett Studio Gallery
