Dear Humans, In 2017 the UN Security Council declared the destruction of cultural heritage as a war crime. "The deliberate destruction of heritage is a war crime, it has become a tactic of war to tear societies over the long term, in a strategy of cultural cleansing. This is why defending cultural heritage is more than a cultural issue, it is a security imperative, inseparable from that of defending human lives," Director-General Bokova told the Security Council. Note the part "cultural cleansing". It reminds us of a human who believed the Jewish culture was a threat to his moral purity. What a frightening parallel it creates should the proposed legislation changes be implemented. The war against the indigenous culture that nurtured this land long before the reckless western culture raped it in favour of the special few still rages. Will moral purity prevail ...
