I have submitted previous submissions and want to raise further issues in Sydney because of a storm which caused huge delays in Sydney at the new years eve fireworks which reminds me of the impact of freight trains on Passenger trains and it is impossible to believe the freight trains will not have a huge impact on passenger trains given that they expect a further 300000 residents come to the south west of Sydney in the future it has already caused delays in the airport line because of a derailment at Minto. Also the heatwave conditions in Sydney the impact of diesel emissions alongside the heat conditions would greatly impact residents as the air pollution would be enormous with the cumulative effect. Also I have witnessed huge lines of traffic on the M5 at anytime in the day which would make it impossible to have the 20000 extra vehicles be accommodated on our 24 hour gridlocked roads
