To whom it may concern

Dear Sirs/Madams,

I am 71 years old and wiser for it. I am in the fortunate position to be of sound mind and body. Water is Australia's most precious commodity. But, you would think not, when you look at our usage and conservation of this most valuable resource.

We citizens voted for our ministers to be the guardians of Australia's natural wealth. To be protected for the generations to come after us.

However, we keep seeing these valuable resources used for short term gain.

The rivers, streams, lakes, waterfalls, creeks, mangroves etc. are the nurseries for our entire ecosystem and you are destroying them.

Sandra Rotheraine
