I am writing to my express my objection and concern about the proposed raising of the Warragamba Dam wall.

The cultural significance of this area and the extensive damage that raising the wall of the dam will cause is immeasurable.

The indigenous peoples sacred and hallowed sites that will be destroyed and the loss of this connection for these people cannot be measured.

The destruction of this Blue Mountains environment and ecology is also unacceptable.

We need this precious land preserved and maintained, not swallowed up. At least 48 threatened species in 4700 hectares are in this projects path.

How can a world heritage area be threatened with such devastation?

Thank you.
