I lived in the Western Suburbs for most of my early life, before moving away to live closer to work, then worked overseas.,back here, then am now retired. Whilst I live close to the CBD, I remember the beauty of the area that the dam is located. As a child I went to the dam itself.. We owe the way our land is to the indigenous legacy of land management. I am concerned that the beauty of this region will be spoilt, trees and trails covered, artifacts destroyed. History cannot be reclaimed. People are important and there would be indigenous people living in the area who are disheartened by the foreshadowed coverage. Trees matter, we many examples of burning rain forests everywhere, adding to global warming. I am a concerned citizen. Leave our beautiful bush alone. Thank you.
