The metro train line should go underground to Canterbury cross the bridge and then go underground again. The above ground space should be made into a world class continuous green space with active transport and plenty of trees. There are so few parks in the area it will be a fabulous resource for the community. With the world of ebikes and mobility scooters and bikes, the inner west will be a better place. There will be no road crossings so it will take a lot of cars off the road.
