INQUIRY INTO PROVISIONS OF THE RIGHT TO FARM BILL 2019

Name: Mrs Katalin Charlton

Date Received: 27 September 2019

I can't believe nor understand why the government seeks to punish those who want to make the treatment of animals in the food chain transparent. It's no longer acceptable to assume animal welfare or rather their requirements are simple. Therefore unimportant.

This thinking is wrong, scepticism is high!!! The more the government seeks to hide the poor living conditions, the poor treatment of animals who will be consumed the angrier the public becomes.

The live export debacle has opened the eyes of the public...The government sought to hide the truth of LE, only for it to be shamed by not for profit animal protection groups, vets maritime workers.

It's time to do the ethical thing, the transparent and kind thing. The people who seek to improve the lives of farm animals should not be punished!!! Rather the law should be using root cause analysis is used to understand why producers can't or won't provide quality living conditions for those poor animals who are going to lose their life anyway..

No...the way to bring unity is to uphold common truths...One truth is that evil people prosper when good people stay silent. The good people are not staying silent BECAUSE EVIL people seek to harm innocent beings for money and expect no punishment..

The world is full of this attitude and look where that has got the planet...

Do Not bring in Ag gag laws..... Instead innovate for better outcomes for animals....I'll never vote Liberal again..their heart and honesty is open to the public and I don't identify with evil..

End..
