INQUIRY INTO PROVISIONS OF THE RIGHT TO FARM
BILL 2019

Name: Mrs Margaret Gissing

Date Received: 29 September 2019

The farming industry, the same as any other, should be open and above board. If there is cruelty to any living being involved in this industry, then it should be exposed and promptly acted upon to stop it. Why would one not nurture and treat respectfully any living being which is providing one's income? To try to stop exposure of disgraceful cruelty shows a complete lack of empathy and compassion from our government. There should be no penalty to those who do care about, and try to expose and stop, the cruel treatment of farm animals.
