any animal that is kept in captivity either in circus or show also any animal that is cruelly treated or puppy farms should be shut down therefore making a law that if pups in pet shops that the shop should be fined heavily if they get caught second time close the shop down and heavily penalise the owner any person that is caught injuring an animal or killing it should get a long jail sentence and should never be allowed to own another animal just like the policeman who stoned a wombat to death never got a reprimand or fined or penalised so next time and there will be someone does the same as he will get away with it as the policeman does why aren't these animals protected a law should be made to include any animal that is mistreated injured or killed the sentence should be the same nothing under 10 years jail should be mandatory and as the law at the moment is a slap on the wrist by the do called judges when us the government going to get their act together to make these people who do the crime also do the time for the punishment
