The use of animals for entertainment is outdated and cruel. It is possible to enjoy a trip to the circus without watching an animal suffer as it's required to perform cheap tricks. Animals should be able to live and carry out natural behaviours which are deprived when they are being used for entertainment. Aquarium animals live a life of hell and die prematurely. It is cruel and outdated and as a society we should have outlawed this long ago.

Animals are here with us, not for us.

We have a responsibility to not cause suffering and to be the gentle and loving custodians of animals and the earth.
