Underfunding will seriously hurt the people of NSW. I have been assaulted by NSW Police, to the extent that when I sought medical advice in the proceeding days, the Doctor thought my injuries warranted photographic evidence to be taken, which she in actual fact did. Took photographs of my injuries. These complaints were never seriously. And even if they were, the officer who attacked me whilst I was in handcuffs and face down on the pavement (for a driving offence) would still be working and would most probably target me again.
