WALES

Animal cruelty in Australia has been unbelievable. Such heartless individuals that have done inexcusable crimes but got off almost scott free. Our laws need to change. (as the USA s recently have). Animal cruelty should be a felony. These people should be held accountable and an animal register that records and prevents them from ever owning animals needs to be established.. We also need I believe to establish an Independent publicly funded Animal protection Agency that can share information between law enforcement agencies and give them more power. We need to introduce uniform legislation, with jail time for harm to animals.

To assert Australian sovereignty over all laws protecting animals, regardless of international trade treaties, until trading nations sign a Universal Convention of Non-Human Animal Rights.
