I urge Parliament to pass Mark Latham's bill regarding vexatious complaints. I have been following the case of Bernard Gaynor for many years, and have been absolutely disgusted and shocked at how he has been harassed for so long and so many, many times, by one person, and how the NSW Anti-Discrimination Board just accepts this person's complaints, no matter how obvious it is that they are vexatious. Since the NSW Anti-Discrimination Board is obviously intent on permitting Mr Gaynor to be harassed (even though he doesn't live in NSW), the NSW government really needs to pass laws outlawing this behaviour of both Gary Burns and the Anti-Discrimination Board.
