(COMPLAINT HANDLING) BILL 2020

The repeated claims of one person, Gary Burns, continued until the accused is impoverished indicates that the present system is grossly unfair. NSW must have a threshold below which claimants have no recourse to legal resources of the state. Other states such as Queensland have such a threshold but Gary Burns has relentlessly pursued from NSW a Queensland citizen for actions quite within the law in that state.

Vexatious complainants must be stopped and the Bill proposed by Mark Latham is most needed in NSW. I support it.
