I object to the demolition of the Power House Museum at Ultimo and the erection of a modern and very ugly structure in a Historic City such as Parramatta. The demolition of Willow Grove and several other terraces of great Historic significance is unacceptable and seen by me and 1000's of others as a act of pure vandalism. Australia has so little history and the little we have needs to be protected and kept safe and open for all the Public to visit to learn and understand our Past and enjoy the link to our History now and into the future. The Historic area earmarked for this project must be protected with all its surrounding Trees and Buildings protected to retain it's unique and special qualities which can never be replaced. The Power house Museum must be left in Ultimo as the Significant Institution that it is for kids and Adults to access in a very Central location that has been used and loved for many decades and should be allowed to continue it's excellent role into the next Century as expected and required by the whole Community.
