

INQUIRY INTO LONG-TERM SUSTAINABILITY OF THE DAIRY INDUSTRY IN NEW SOUTH WALES

The dairy industry is cruel and there's no place for it in today's society. People are waking up to what goes on behind closed doors and how mothers and babies are separated soon after birth. How the baby boys are considered as a waste product and are killed and thrown away or are sent onto a veal farm. Both baby girls and boys never get to grow up with and be nourished by their mother as nature intended. Not only is it cruel and outdated it has been shown to be unsustainable as the amount of land needed to grow enough crops to feed all these cows that are bred and also the amount of water is unsustainable. The greenhouse gas Methane is produced in large quantities which is contributing greatly to warming the planet. So even if humans don't care about the plight of the cows then they should hopefully care about their own lives and put an end to dairy.
