Greetings.

With respect I feel it is important the committee keep in mind during these deliberations that of course none of your groups decrees or acts will impact or apply to any group or person involved in defending themselves against your parliaments drug war and as your group has not formally signed a treaty with the recognized land owners will of course not apply to First Nation peoples engaged in action upon their own land.

As you should be well aware the drug war your group inflicts upon the public is regarded as a functional civil war and subject to military process, formally taking up arms against your parliaments hostilities is not considered a criminal action in any way but rather a civilian taking up arms in defense against a hostile military without the time to form a formal militia.

Thank you for your time.

As always feel free to make my submission and name public, but do please withhold any phone numbers or addresses or other private contact details.

George Dickson
