INQUIRY INTO HEALTH AND WELLBEING OF KANGAROOS AND OTHER MACROPODS IN NEW SOUTH WALES

Name: Jennifer Moore

Date Received: 26 March 2021

I can understand how animals can become a nuisance or damaging to farmers, therefore, I can understand culling needs to be done when roo's are in great numbers.

What I can't abide by is the ruthless practice of the killing, the brutality to the joey and the disgusting storage of the dead kangaroos until they can get to refrigeration which is many hours after the kill.

I've seen video of the cowardly acts of violence to these animals where they are left to die a long and agonising death. In that the joeys must get off lightly.

Their deaths are the result of having their heads slammed into the ground or slammed against a tree. A fairly quick death for the babies. They are then left to rot.

I am appalled at barbaric and cruel way animals are treated. I just think I live in a civilised society but I do not. The leaders who can make change do not. They are no better than the bloodlust barbarians who kill!
