INQUIRY INTO HEALTH AND WELLBEING OF KANGAROOS AND OTHER MACROPODS IN NEW SOUTH WALES

Name: Ms Annie Nielsen

Date Received: 1 April 2021

Kangaroos are very efficient breeders so the fact that their numbers have reduced significantly is very serious.

Taking action on climate change would be a significant move to reduce drought. Kangaroos need enough grass to share with stock so farmers won't want to kill them.

Matt Keen is doing great work on renewable energy but the government must stop approvals for opening new and extending existing coal mines.

Action on climate change will also reduce the risk of bushfires.
