WALES

This is unsatisfactory that these fences are inhumanely killing our wildlife along with the morons who think it's just good fun to kill.

Don't support the kangaroo meat industry for human or pet's 🤢

Supported by the Australian Government, pea-brain assholes murder kangaroos ..

Last year we took habitat away from wild animals and this year we will kill those same ones for invading "our" space.

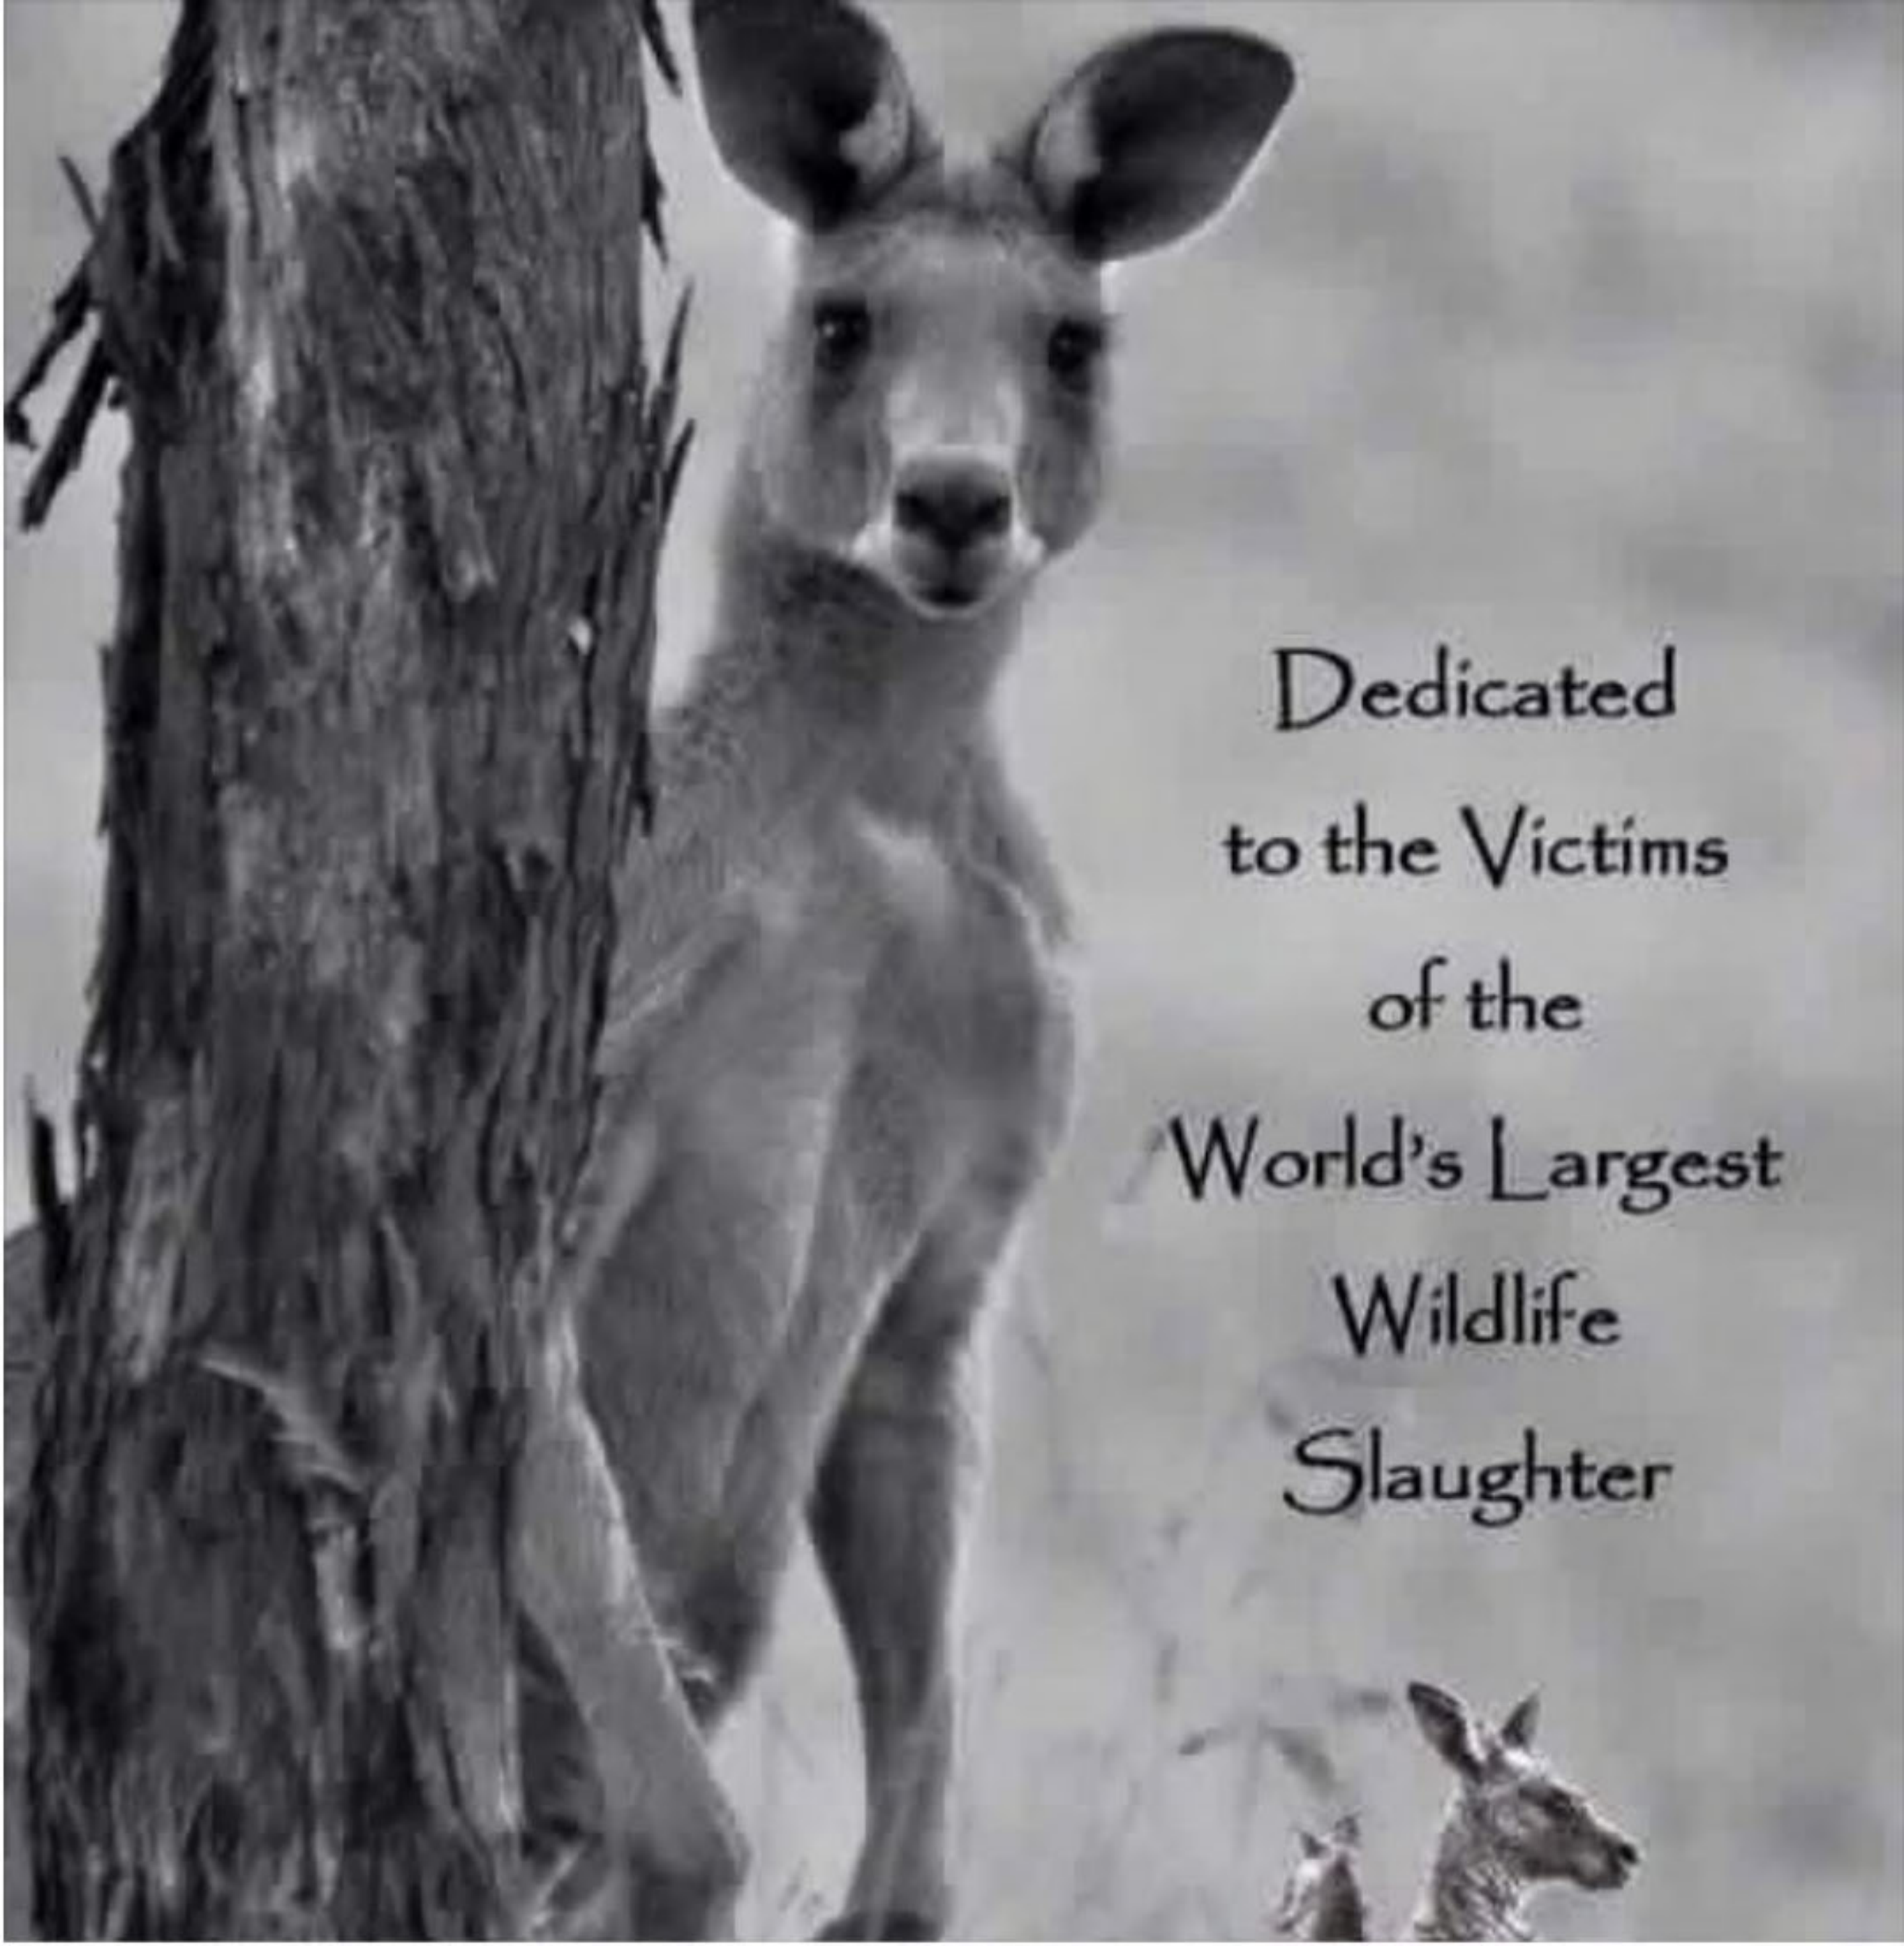

Wild Animals Australia

A photograph showing a dead kangaroo lying on its back on the ground in a burnt forest. The kangaroo's body is light-colored, possibly due to ash or its natural fur color, and its legs are splayed out. To the left of the kangaroo is a white sign with black and red text. To the right is a grey fence post. In the background, there are many thin, black tree trunks, some with charred bark, and a pile of logs. Red and white striped caution tape is strung across the scene. The ground is covered in dark, charred soil and some dry leaves.
