Any and all legislation proposed in Australia regarding Climate Change needs to be postponed until a full audit of the claims is done. It is not satisfactory to legislate against an industry ie Coal on the the word of an unknown activist. Quoting an ABC journalist saying "well 97% of scientists agree with me" is not an excuse to destroy an industry.

In my lifetime I have seen claims that Perth will have to be abandoned by 2000, temperatures with be 10 degrees hotter by 2005, Sydney with not have water ever again.

There have been thousands of predictions, none of them have proved correct.

We see many Children and other activists claiming our imminent demise if we don't basically destroy our country and economy (mid 2021)

In 2020 we saw huge fires in Eastern Australia, largely caused by activists preventing Forest Management. When this happened the activists blamed the damage and deaths on Climate Change.

It is well over due to require anyone who claims damage to be able to prove who or what did it. Any false claims should carry a penalty..
