Respective Politicians,

We are a single income family living completely surrounded by toll roads in South West Sydney. We have a child of the state in our care and 3 times a week I need to drive him to visits with birth parents, all of which cost me money. I use the M7 twice a week and the M5 once simply for his visits. Although, a partial amount of the M5 money I get back, losing the money upfront hurts families like mine. If I choose to not use the toll roads I battle ridiculous amount of traffic lights, pot holes and slow moving traffic which 8/10 times is so unproducibile that I am late to my destination.

Although, in saying this I do understand that roads cost money, but I do believe it is unfair to expect NSW tax payers to foot the whole bill for a mismanaged history of forward thinking road planning.
