My partner started a new job first week of June. The amount of tolls he paid, a few cents short of $450 is an absolute joke. It is half his wage for that month. Yes he is able to go the longer way to avoid tolls just like everyone else avoiding tolls which would had just over an hour to his trip each way. Every day people can not afford this. You are sending the population bankrupt with the ridiculous price of tolls on our motorways. It's ok when it is a random trip or 2 for a getaway but when it is an everyday occurrence where it costs between $33 - $38 a day, this is a rort.
