I work in aviation when there is no lockdowns I work 6 days a week and get paid fortnightly, almost half of my income a fortnight goes to tolls which makes it extremely stressful to navigate my finances until the next pay day and half the time I am having to lend money from family and friends, I would catch public transport to reduce this cost but my work hours don't enable me to do so. So paying tolls for me is costing me $300 a fortnight, yeah we can do cash backs but the newly added toll point on the M5 just after the King George Rd off ramp is not included in cash back which I find absolutely shocking.
