'Water Harvesting' has and is continuing to destroy our environment, our rural communities and our farmers.

This was supposed to be an El Nina year, there is supposed to be water in our rural rivers but there aren't, and the towns that flooded (due to being starved of water then a sudden influx) still don't have enough. Please do something about this.

Politics is a complicated business, and there is 'money and power' that inarguably will influence people's decisions - but surely this one is not worth being paid out for, and if it is then you sold our country for too cheap.
