An independent review into the money making Leviathan aka RSPCA is well overdue. Animal Welfare seems to be very low on their list of priorities favoring building their cash and assets. The total lack of transparency regarding their ridiculously high kill rates is astounding as is the conflict of interest when it comes to live stock and poultry. How can they possibly consider prosecution of a farm regarding cruelty when the end product is "RSPCA endorsed"? I have been dealing with the RSPCA for years (in a rescue capacity) it nearly sent me into therapy. Their antiquated temperament test of animals using fake plastic kids, flapping umbrellas, snatching food away from a starving dog with a fake rubber hand, dressing as old ladies and shouting in their face - all this should be outlawed as if a dog reacts, it's dead. You wouldn't be a cat for quids in their 'care' as a heartbreakingly high percentage leave in a plastic bag. They rarely turn up or prosecute animal cruelty mainly due to lack of resources. Please. NSW alone have $50 Million in cash and assets and yet they still plead for more money so they can save more animals. We absolutely need an independent animal welfare organisation and the sooner the better - our animals deserve more than the RSPCA .
