WALES

Dear Sir/Madam,

There are many cases out there available pointing to abusive and unhealthy conditions of animals kept on puppy farms, boxer Strawberry being one of them

Victoria and Western Australia have already banned the sale of puppies in pet shops and introduced laws to combat puppy farms .

In fact, on worldwide scale, Australia is behind, not having an Animal Law, so many animal owners treat their pets as fur babies , family member. But in front of law, pets have less rights than a shop.

Many animals are living in loving families But for those who do not, the law is weak, abusive owners are not punished most of the time, but also allowing puppy farms treat animals in unhealthy conditions without regular vet care or being destined to live in cages and confined spaces.

We all welcomed 21st century as century of progress and opportunities, 20 years later, how different our lives are, and how different our pets life's and care and laws?

Animal Law is overdue
Banning of puppy farms is overdue

I trust great care and deep thoughts are given to sacredness of life, any life form.

Thanks
Kind regards
