To the committee

Transport NSW axing of many bus routes/services in the Eastern Suburbs and there replacement has not made life/getting around easier. Exactly the opposite has been the result. How a highly paid group of experts, employed by Transport NSW, could ever consider replacing a one bus service in getting from A to B with 2 or 3 bus services, with necessary bus changes is beyond comprehension. When ,making these decision did the planning group look at the demographics/population profile of the area? From my point of view I would say no. It is to be hoped that more community input will be sought and acted on. Hopefully changes made can be reversed.
