The bus services are now horrible. Takes multiple buses (risking missing buses each time you have to change rides) and significantly longer to get anywhere. The light rail is a total failure and takes even longer and goes no where useful. I've lived in Coogee/Randwick area for 12 years without needing to buy a car and further plug up the roads and fight for parking. That's no longer the case. I'll have to buy a car to get anywhere now if things keep on as they are.

Which further creates problems considering the number of apartment buildings allowed to be built without guaranteed parking spots! And a new hospital also without adequate parking or better build roads to accommodate the increasing required traffic.. Such a failure
